It is the little words you speak, the little thoughts you think, the little things you do or leave undone, the little moments you waste or wisely, the little temptations which you yield to or overcome—the little things of every day that are making or marred your future life.

THE BABY CLINIC

We are informed that recently the baby clinic has not been so well attended lately as it was for some time after first commenced. Because of this the government has decided to discontinue this clinic unless there is some increased interest shown in the immediate future.

There is no doubt that the clinics held here in the past have had a most beneficial effect upon the health of the babies attending them, and have proved a great help to mothers in the feeding and care of their infants. As proof of this we need only refer to the number of Redcliff babies who won prizes in competitions where scientific means were used in the judging and the awarding of prizes. Indeed at Wembley where the records of thousands of babies from all over the Empire were judged, a Redcliff baby won special distinction. All these prize-winning babies were regular attendants at the clinic and were brought up according to instructions received there.

These prizes were not won for looks but rather from a health standpoint. This means that every mother should take advantage of the opportunity furnished by the clinic to get the proper instruction for bringing up healthy children.

Surely it cannot be that the mothers of today are not as interested in the health of their babies as the mothers of a few months or a year ago were.

It would be a mistake if the clinic here was discontinued. Whether it is or not, depends on the mothers of the town.

The next clinic will be held in the school on Thursday, Feb. 8, at three o'clock. If the attendance on that occasion warrants it, the clinic will be held on the first Thursday of each month. If not, it will be discontinued. It is up to the mothers to show they appreciate the efforts of the government and of Dr. and Nurse Patterson, who have always taken a keen interest in these clinics.

PAYING THE WAY

The provincial government is taking a very poor way of encouraging Alberta boys to go in for professions of various kinds. When they want a mining engineer they go to a United States to get one, and when they want a deputy minister of health they go to Saskatchewan to get one. In the meantime Alberta educated engineers and doctors are taking up other lines of work or are moving out of the province to make a living. Not a very good way of keeping our own young men in our own young province.

After the last provincial election a common expression heard was that the farmers' party was safely entrenched in power for some time to come, but this was always followed with the remark: "Unless they get scrapping among themselves or—because of their safe majority—then venture on introducing some new fangled legislation which would lose them the support of their more conservative friends."

Some of their appointments made recently look as though they were paving the way for the upheaval.

Some may find fault with the British at Hankow, China, for not turning their guns on the disturbing Chinese, but the U. S. marines say they showed marvellous coolness and bravery. The result of the uprising shows that the old British way is the best even yet.

The big increase shown in the profits from the sale of liquor, the increase in the money derived from the motor tax and the gasoline tax during 1926 should start the provincial government thinking along the line of tax reduction in other quarters, or else sharing up some of the profits with the municipalities which contribute to these funds.

With the provincial government ordering school books from the States and employing an American as chief commissioner of mines, the next thing we may expect is an Albertan scandal similar to the one unearthed in New Brunswick where American capitalists are charged with giving a handout of $100,000 to a one-time New Brunswick premier. Our provincial government should be canny.

Northwest Grain Dealers' association continues to send out literature, the object of which is to discredit the Wheat Pool. Surely the farmers of this province are too well versed in the workings of the Pool and its advantages to them, to be fooled by those who in the past have made large profits, which are now going to producers through the Pool.

The Montreal theatre disaster is another reminder of how easily people can become excited and stampeded in a building which is on fire. There is no doubt that if a few level headed people had placed themselves in different parts of the building to control the emptying of it, many lives could have been saved. It should be compulsory for all large public buildings to have some such system. This fire should also serve as a warning to all who have anything to do with the management of public buildings. This disaster was the greatest tragedy in Canada. Can it be that because we have so free from such disasters we have become careless?

Yesterday is dead—forget it. Tomorrow has not come—don't worry. Today is here—use it.

Turkish tobacco, grown in Albania, is better than that grown in Turkey or Greece, according to a Mr. Baker here, who grew 1,000 pounds in an experiment this season. He plotted out three-quarters of an acre to ten varieties of tobacco seed. The crop was harvested just before the coming of frost, and of the ten varieties Turkish, White Harley and Orinco thrived best.

Nearly 1,000 overseas vessels entered the Harbor of Montreal and over 200 fiscal vessels docked there in the season just closed. This makes a very favorable showing compared with the 1,250 overseas and 212 fiscal vessels of the previous season. During one period of open navigation over 118,000 bushels of grain were shipped from the port and flour shipments totalled 2,000,000 barrels.

Canada scored again at the Chicago Exposition when the blue ribbon grand champion in the Clydesdale stallion division went to Forest Favorite, owned by Hargreaves and Mack of Belle Plaine, Saskatchewan. Last year the University of Saskatchewan took the coveted honor with Green Meadows Founstap. This year, it is said, the veteran Canadian stallion was an easy winner over all others.

The fifth Eastern International Dog-Sled Derby will be run on the 20th, 21st and 22nd. The race is run in laps of about 10 miles a day, and 120 miles in the small total mileage. Many thousands of men, women and children view these races, and it is interesting to see how the huskies make supreme efforts to be lead dogs. The drivers second the dogs every possible way.

The first annual meeting of the Canadian Boards of Trade was held at Saint John, N.B., October 10th. Over 100 representatives from the civil administrative bodies of every Canadian city gathered at the Windsor Street Station in Montreal, where they extricated and proceeded over the Canada-Pacific lines to Saint John. Minutes of vital interest to every administrator were discussed at the following sessions.

Diphtheria Is Preventable

"Seymour Plan" New Put in Operation

All Over America, diphtheria has been a scourge. In Canada, each year it takes the life of about 100 persons. It is completely preventable if the exact way to cope with the disease of diphtheria. This is the story in which Dr. M. B. Seymour, deputy minister of public health in Saskatchewan, and one of the continent's leading health authorities, sums up the situation. He has just returned from an extensive series of conferences with medical men, government officials and public health bodies in various parts of the United States and Canada. Dr. Seymour, president of the Conference of State and Provincial Health Authorities of North America, introduced the "Seymour Plan" for campaigning against preventable disease—a plan which has now been put into operation all over America.

In 1925, 1,441 preventable deaths from diphtheria were reported in Canada, including Prince Edward Island. In 1926, in the United States, there were 129,461 cases and 13,846 deaths. Both deaths and cases were prevalent. One out of every eleven cases of diphtheria in Buffalo during the last eleven years, died. The total number of cases was 12,497. The number of cases who died were under school age. Most of these deaths were preventable.

"No mother wants her child to contract diphtheria and certainly no mother would refuse a simple means of protection which is infallible. But, unfortunately, many parents have never been informed. They do not know how near it is to their children's lives or else they hesitate about having their children immunized."

"In two sentences, are the facts every adult should remember: "Diphtheria can be prevented by the use of toxoid or toxanin, which is a lasting immunity."

"Diphtheria can be cured by the early use of antitoxin."

"No harmful results follow the use of toxoid or toxanin. They are one hundred per cent safe." Very young children have no reaction whatever from toxoid.

"The results are surprising. The death percentages of 23 representative American cities, some years ago, commenced the general application of the antitoxin. Since 1918, their diphtheria deaths had fallen to an average of 10.5 per cent each year."

"In New York city, 25,000 children have been immunized since 1920. The death rate from diphtheria per 100,000 of population has dropped from 14.5 in 1920 to 1.15 in 1924."

"Here is something else to remember carefully. The heaviest mortality among children from diphtheria is among children under school age. It is safe to say that the immunization of one child under six years of age equals the immunization of ten children as far as the death rate is concerned."

"The best time to vaccinate against diphtheria is say that after the third month during the first year. That is the age when children are most in need of the protection."

"Young children, as I said before, can be immunized without any local or general anesthesia. If possible, by means of the Schick test to find out definitely whether the person vaccinated is so near escape from diphtheria infection. The Schick test, too, has no harmful results."

"I receive a great many enquiries about the quality of the virus used for the vaccination. Parents are very anxious to make sure that the virus is not sterile as a rule, how they can do. Let me say then, that the toxoid produced today by the Connaught Laboratories at University of Toronto, is as harmless as it is efficient."

Accuracy Is Essential

Few Scores Variation in Official Watches Has Caused Many

Even a slight disagreement between the watches carried by railroad engineers and conductors may cause disastrous loss of life and property. Many railroad wrecks have been traced to variations of only a few seconds in official timepieces. It is for this reason that a rigid system of watch inspection and regulation was put into effect by railroads throughout the country and one of the organizations appointed to superintend this task has under its jurisdiction practically all of the 35,000 miles of railroad.

Some time ago an investigation carried out by experts in various parts of the country revealed a surprisingly miscellaneous condition in the account of time. In one region seventeen distinctly different kinds of time were observed in as many cities, towns and railroad centers. Conductors on the freight trains of Iowa, Iowa, was discovered, often depended upon cheap alarm clocks hung in cabooses. Also many merchants were giving away their watches with a suit of clothes and other merchandise and engineers and conductors were running their own time.

Many clocks in cities and towns were from trains were found to be completely out of time. The ringing of school bells or the whistle of factories was followed by the erroneous railroad time.

Urges Preservation Of Reindeer

May Be Source of Great Wealth For Canada Says Big Game Hunter

The reindeer of Northern Canada may one day be the source of great wealth for the Dominion, according to Captain Henry Tuck, M.P., P.O.B., P.E.B., well known big game hunter and traveler, who has been investigating the possibilities of this industry.

Although the Hudson's Bay Company recently gave up a report that experience with reindeer throughout the country and one of the organizations appointed to superintend this task has under its jurisdiction practically all of the 35,000 miles of railroad.

Health Of Our Live Stock

Less Compensation Now Being Paid For Slaughtering Diseases of Animals

Less compensation now being paid for slaughtering diseases of animals. Eternal vigilance is required, and happily given, to keep our live stock in a healthy condition. This is pointed out in the just published report of the Dominion Veterinary Director-General (Dr. Geo. Hilton), for the year ending March 31, 1926.

While, as is unavoidable, during the year occasional outbreaks of disease occurred, on the whole it gratifying to note, the situation was very satisfactory. This is indicated by the fact that the compensation had to be paid for the slaughtering of animals in 1926 was less than in any of the last five years. Especially was this the case as regards slaughter, which fell from $117,721 in 1924-25 to $125,816. Bovine tuberculosis eradication is also progressing the prevention and treatment of rinderpest, and for the eradication of foot and mouth and other dairy products from healthy cattle is being made on a large scale.

It is becoming difficult to satisfy the demand. Of course there has been some for the last five years while the compensation amount required in 1924-25 was $117,721. The report, which can be had from application to the Publications Branch, Ottawa, is one that in a general sense may be studied with pride as showing the splendid work that is being done by the Health of Animals Branch and the results therefrom.

Rheumatism Is Now Considered A Menace

Famous Doctors Discuss Problem at Big London Conference

Long regarded as one of the minor troubles of life, rheumatism is now looked upon as one of the most serious menaces to physical efficiency. A remarkable gathering of doctors, industrialists, welfare workers, and nursing men, brought together by the Council of the Federation of Medical and Allied Services, debated the problem in London, and decided to set up an industrial clinic to deal with the scourge.

Rheumatism has lately been revealed as an insidious scourge which costs $2,000,000 a year in sick leave, causes more than 2,000,000 weeks of work to be lost every year, and results in a very large number of deaths from heart disease.

The object of the meeting was to discuss the prevention and treatment of rheumatism in industry, and the discussion was started by Sir Thomas Hadden, the famous physician who revealed the latest scientific opinion on the question.

"There is no such thing as a 'cold'," said Sir Thomas. "It is perhaps the commonest expression of some defect in the body, but it is very serious. It is the point of efficiency, because it attacks the tissues which are essential to movement."

Find Ancient Parchment
New Testament of Fourteenth Century Found in Germany

Fragment of a German translation of the New Testament, dating from the 14th century, has been discovered in an ancient volume of title deeds in the archives of Bamberg. Close examination of the records by an observant searcher disclosed that in many cases where the real estate records had been torn the pieces of parchment used to patch up the damaged leaves bore the initials of certain bishops. It was found that the parchment was of the 14th century, and was destroyed by fire in 1761.

Canadian Wheat Production
The Dominion Bureau of Statistics estimates the total yield of winter wheat in Canada at 253,645,000 bushels and fall wheat at 50,719,000 bushels; making a total for all wheat in 1926 of 404,364,000 bushels, as compared with 411,275,760 in 1925. The wheat yield of the three prairie provinces is put at 317,775,000, as compared with 323,929,000 last year. Manitoba and Alberta both record substantial gains.

Improved Methods Of Growing Alfalfa

Canadian Green Alfalfa Seed Proven to Be Superior

In Ontario alfalfa yields are constantly higher yields than is obtained from the common hay mixture. The average yield of alfalfa throughout the province during the last four years has been 2.75 tons per acre, while timothy and clover hay yielded only 1.25 tons per acre during the same period. The Experimental Farm at London has grown alfalfa successfully for many years, finding it to be a very superior quality of hay.

Owing to the fact that farmers sometimes find it difficult to grow alfalfa, the account of the methods followed by the Experimental Farm in producing this crop, given in the latest report of L. B. Hopkins, Dominion Field Husbandman, will be found of peculiar interest. Mr. Hopkins emphasizes the importance of selecting the right field for growing alfalfa on farms where the crop has not been grown before. A well-drained soil is essential, and the alfalfa should be sown in a field where the water level on the surface of the ground or the water level in the soil is not too high. A field having a slight slope will provide ample drainage and will grow large crops of alfalfa even upon heavy soil.

The field selected should not contain acid or sour soil. If it is only slightly acid it may be corrected by the application of lime, but no attempt should be made to grow alfalfa on a very acid soil. A very valuable test is necessary in getting a start with alfalfa. After the alfalfa is established, it should be cut and the cuttings should be used as fertilizer for other farm crops. Weedy land should be carefully avoided.

The seedling of alfalfa seeds is a necessary requisite to success, and Canadian green seed is preferred. Size of Brain Has No Bearing on Intellectual Capacity

When Sir Arthur Keith, the renowned London anatomist, stated that the heads of Englishmen are changing in shape, he said something which was not only a revelation to biologists but would readily agree, according to Sir Dornum Widdie of the University of Toronto.

The heads of Englishmen today, Sir Dornum further states, are so vast that there is no type. The most important of the head is the brain, which is not only a revelation to biologists but would readily agree, according to Sir Dornum Widdie of the University of Toronto.
